PMP Appoints Geoff Stephenson as Chief Financial Officer

Sydney, Tuesday 25th May 2010 - PMP Limited has appointed Mr Geoff Stephenson as its Chief Financial Officer, which now completes the restructure and strengthening of the finance and treasury team.

Mr Stephenson joins PMP Limited from Iplex Pipelines, the Australian owned and operated pipe and fittings manufacturing business where he was CFO. Mr Stephenson has more than 30 years experience working with some of Australia's largest organisations across the FMCG, Oil & Gas, Media and Diversified Industrials sectors.

Geoff brings to PMP a very strong strategic focus with extensive involvement in M&As and major capital expenditure growth projects in industries across Australia, Asia, Europe and the Americas.

PMP's current CFO, Mr Phillip Elbourne, will take on the newly created role of General Manager, Finance, with responsibility for Group Shared Services, IT and Group Accounting and will report directly to Mr Stephenson.

PMP Chief Executive Officer, Richard Allely, welcomed Geoff to the CFO role.

"Geoff comes to PMP with an impeccable background running large finance functions within significant businesses in Australia. I look forward to working with Geoff, Phillip and the rest of the finance team as we continue to deliver strong financial results and a competitive product offering to the market."

Commenting on his appointment Mr Stephenson welcomed the opportunity to work for PMP.

"I am joining PMP at an exciting time in the company's history. Much of the transformation work initiated by Richard Allely has been completed and we are now looking towards a period of growth."

Mr Stephenson will join PMP Limited on 31 May.
